

Unity: Comfort leads to cohesion

“Our board room’s AV equipment provides crystal clear sound quality for those in the room as well as participants at remote locations. The presentation equipment provides sharp visual clarity and gives us great flexibility.”

Michael Hart
Home Properties

Through spacious design and strategic detail, Home Properties was able to upgrade its board room presentation capabilities while enhancing communications with remote employees and investors from its Rochester, NY headquarters. Company leaders incorporated a specific vision for the future of Home Properties. Special features include:

- Smart touch screen lectern presentation monitor
- ClearOne audio conferencing
- High definition video projection and 65" flat panel display
- Remote diagnostics and AV system monitoring
- Versatile PC inputs
- Ceiling-mounted Panasonic projector 16:9

AV Solutions provided Home Properties with a media rich environment that enables its team to reach a higher level of performance, bringing value to shareholders and other constituents.
